

San Onofre Nuclear Generating Station Informational Website for Neighbors

Spanish – www.comunidadSONGS.com

In order to increase the amount of plant information available to its neighbors, the San Onofre Nuclear Generating Station has launched twin English and Spanish websites. These new resources offer the plant's neighbors the fastest, most accurate information available about plant operations.

■ Latest News

This section of the new websites allows the plant to communicate with its neighbors quickly, at any hour of the day, and on any day of the week. Details will be available about plant developments and breaking news stories, including any recommended public actions.

■ Community Support

The San Onofre plant and its 3,000 employees and contractors are an integral part of nearby communities, providing the area with steady jobs, tax revenue and other forms of community support, as this section explains.

■ Emergency Preparedness

What should you and your family do in the unlikely event the San Onofre plant were to declare an emergency? What does it mean if the community alert siren system sounds? Answers to these and other questions are contained in this important section.

■ Q&A

Do you have questions about the San Onofre plant? Have you heard a rumor you would like to check out? Let us know and then watch this section for the most accurate, up-to-date information.

■ Contact Us

Here you will learn how to contact us for information, or to request that a speaker from the San Onofre plant participate in a meeting of your community group.

■ Plant Background Information

■ Employee Profiles

Like you, San Onofre plant workers profiled here live in the coastal communities that surround the plant. They are motivated to protect the safety and well-being of those communities not only by their professionalism but because that's where their families live.

"We take seriously our responsibility to provide plant neighbors with prompt explanations of major developments, answers to their questions and the assurance that their safety is our highest daily priority. These websites are one of the ways we attempt to fulfill that responsibility."

- Peter Dietrich
Southern California Edison Chief Nuclear Officer
